THE LONG WALK
Faculty marches for Convocation Day

Dr. White To Speak At Fall Convocation
Dr. Goddich C. White, president of Emory University, will speak at the annual fall convocation on Oct. 2. Dr. J. Gor- risp, vice-president of the University, announced this week.

The convocation will be held at 11 a.m. in Glenn Memorial audi- ence.

Convocation, said Dr. White, is "an annual ceremony of great significance. It is also an occasion which the University takes to bring together the faculty, students and alumni for a common purpose." Dr. White said that unity would be the keynote of the program and all faculty and student members will be urged to develop a sense of community.

He said all University opera- tions—administration, the faculty, the library, the library of the Emory Grill—would be included in the program.

The program will be broadcast via closed circuit television to all students and members of the faculty attending the program.

If Weather permits he will be "formal" for the occasion.

Dr. White was honored recently when Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, elected him national president for the coming year.

Research Building To Be Finished Soon

Emory's newly constructed can- cer research building will be fin- ished and equipped in about six weeks, said Bryan L. Allen, director of operations for the University, this week.

Laboratory installations are nearly complete in the basement and on the first three floors, added Mr. Allan. Also the medical li- brary will be transferred to the research center.

Concerning other construction on campus Allen said the added width of the widened campus loop could not be tolerated until the six inches of stabilizing rock had settled.

The bridge structure is being wid- ened to approximately double its former size. An eight-foot sidewalk will be constructed on the south- west side of the bridge.

INSIDE

FRANK PECUSH discusses life in the Emory campus and lobs out a few bouquets to individuals by page 4.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES and their effect on Emoryites discussed by the editor—page 4.

THE GEOLOGY JACKASS, St. Peter's Student's new voice, was launched by the Geology Club.

RUSH WEEK PARTIES planned for all 14 fraternities—page 2.

New Graduate Humanities Institute To Open Here

A Graduate Institute of Liberal Arts in the humanities of the Dung and Honor of the Graduate School announced Thursday by Mrs. C. Elbridge Cushing, dean of the faculties.

"This is a major step in the pro- gram to extend and enrich graduate study at Emory," Dean Cushing told the Graduate School.

The Institute, an inter-depart- mental program leading to a Doc- tor of Philosophy degree, will operate within the Graduate School under the direction of Mrs. C. Elbridge Cushing, dean of the faculties.

"This is a major step in the pro- gram to extend and enrich graduate study at Emory," Dean Cushing told the Graduate School.

"I know of no parallel to the Institute's curriculum leading to the Ph. D.," he added.

The Institute will be inaugurated on an unlimited enrollment basis. It will begin fall with a year-long seminar on "Freedom vs. Author- itarianism."

The seminar, occupying about two-thirds of the student's time, deals with the role of the academically-oriented American society from classical to modern literature.

It will investigate the questions of freedom in political insti- tutions, the arts and to the individual

Yearbook Due Soon—Eubanks

The 1961-62 Campus will be in circulation within a few weeks and will be in the campus office in the Alumni Memorial Hall office.

Professor of English, Richard Eubanks, editor.

Yearbooks will be mailed to all graduates who have left the campus, Eubanks stated.

All Emory students will be required to have their pictures taken for the Campus, added.

Persons will be photographed by appointment beginning October 15 and a special price for the picture persons to have the pictures taken for the picture in the yearbook.

Additional copies may be pur- chased, also.

FILMS Start Oct. 3

Emory's annual "Memorable Film" series, a weekly program of film classics of the past, will open on Friday, Oct. 3, said John A. Griffin, director of community education service, said this week.

Sponsored by the Emory Chris- tian association, the series is pre- sented free of charge at the Emory Hospital auditorium each Friday evening.

The first presentation will be "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," a 1940 produc- tion in which Jane Wyman won the Academy award for portraying a harried but hardworking ABE LINCOLN."

"The Mixado" (1932), Gilbert and Sullivan's comic opera, will be produced on the screen with its enchanting melodies, lyrics and story twists. It will be presented Nov. 10.

Vespers Held Daily

Student-led Vesper services, sponsored by the University Christian association, will be given Monday through Friday each week at the RCA conference room of the Alumni Memorial building.

All in attendance lasting 15 minutes, will be held daily at 6 and 8 p.m.

OUTDOORS in the Emory campus and lobs out a few bouquets to individuals by page 4.

CAMPAIGN ISSUES and their effect on Emoryites discussed by the editor—page 4.

THE GEOLOGY JACKASS, St. Peter's Student's new voice, was launched by the Geology Club.

RUSH WEEK PARTIES planned for all 14 fraternities—page 2. 